Dates

Friday May 4 - Monday May 7 (up to 3 days of competition)

Location

Wickaninnish Beach, Lot D, Pacific Rim National Park Reserve

We are very excited to announce that Surf Canada Nationals is a GO! It has been 30 years since the first contest that started this all was held at Long Beach, and we are so happy to be back again, just south from the original contest site, at Wickaninnish Beach!

Some of you have competed in Surf Canada sanctioned events before and for some of you this will be your first time, and we hope you are just as excited about competing this year at Wickaninnish Beach as we are!

Each year we strive to make the event better for all competitors and spectators and we feel like this year's event will be the best one yet! We hope to see each of you at Wickaninnish Beach May 4-7 for this years Canadian Championships and celebrate the gathering of Canadian Surfers from across the country and around the World.

NOTE:

By Registering and having your credit card charged for this event has you waitlisted for your category, but does not confirm entry. You will be notified if your registration has been confirmed or declined at or before the close of registration. Confirmation will be based on 2017 event seeding, sponsor wildcards, and time stamp of your registration. In the event that your registration has been declined due to overcapacity, your entry will be fully refunded.
